CLEVELAND, OH - July 1 - Daniel Tosh, host of the insanely successful and popular COMEDY CENTRAL series, "Tosh.0" will embark on a massive national stand-up tour this fall. "Tosh Tour Twenty Ten: A COMEDY CENTRAL Live Event" kicks off in September in Arizona and travels to more than 60 cities, with additional shows to be announced. COMEDY CENTRAL is pleased to work with Live Nation, the industry's leading tour promoter of comedy.

For tour info and links to purchase tickets, viewers can log onto www.jokes.com, www.danieltosh.com and www.livenation.com.

Tosh inked a multi-level deal with COMEDY CENTRAL to shoot an original one-hour stand-up special which will premiere on Sunday, October 3 to be subsequently released with extended material on DVD and CD on Tuesday, October 5. The network also announced the renewal of "Tosh.0" for a third season which will consist of at least 29 episodes and premiere on Wednesday, January 12 at 10:30 p.m. ET/PT.

Tosh has a long history with COMEDY CENTRAL having hosted the network's "Live at Gotham" stand-up series and performed on "Premium Blend" and "Friday Night Stand-Up." Tosh has also been featured on the all-comedy channel in a half-hour stand-up special "COMEDY CENTRAL Presents..." (2002) and on his first hour-long stand-up special, "Completely Serious" (2007). His premiere CD, "True Stories I Made Up," was released in 2005 through COMEDY CENTRAL Records.
